What is Holistic Science?

Life's highest aim can be realized only when it is understood comprehensively. The worldly life should be accepted not only in its outer aspects but also in its inner aspects. It is the purpose of the holistic science to combine all available knowledge from humanities, science, technology, philosophy, religion and spirituality to develop new approaches to solve age-old problems of our lives so that we may live harmoniously with one another and recognize, cherish and sustain the natural treasures.

Scientific and technological development needs to be blended with moral values and spiritual aspects to benefit the entire world. Holistic Science includes the physical, emotional, intellectual, spiritual and social aspects of life and living. Holistic Science provides practical guidelines for an integral approach to health, wealth, prosperity and peace for all. This will bring all human beings harmoniously together as a flourishing global family.

-: Inspiration & Blessings :-

The Soul Incarnate Shri Ambalal Muljibhai Patel (1908-1988) popularly known as Akram Vignani Dada Bhagawan was born in the state of Gujarat and lived life of a businessman in Gujarat and Maharashtra. Since childhood he had a natural quest for scientific explorations and explanations of the human inner life science in a holistic manner encompassing social, religious and spiritual life in day to day living, and strived for religious harmony amidst the plethora of heterogeneous belief systems prevailing in the world. He was enlightened in 1958 on the Platform No. 3 at Railway Station, Surat; which occurred 'But - Natural' and thereafter he became gradually known amongst the people having a desire to understand the real scientific understanding of human life. Rather than giving lectures or discourses, he encouraged more and more questions from the seekers of Truth and responded thereto.

Dada Bhagawan was a highly evolved person with whom various thinkers, philosophers, scientists and people from all walks of life and religions had dialogues and obtained consistent logical scientific explanations to their queries while respecting varied belief systems. In this age of stress, struggle and strain where the requisite harmony of mind, speech and action for inner progress is disrupted and drained, the knowledge which he revealed comes to common man as a saviour to attain the goal of happy holistic living with right understanding of principles and application of Holistic Science. It helps keeping us equipoise in all circumstances making the life a smooth sailing. HSRC aspires to bring out these truths to the whole world and humanity to enlighten upon the principles behind overall happiness in Life & Living.
